

Hi, my name is Chris Woolley. I moved to Knockholt in 2012 from Riverhead with my husband and one of my four children and Great Dane Harley. I also have four wonderful grandsons. The decision to move was easy as we wanted to live in a strong community and be able to walk along the many footpaths in the area and actually be surrounded by trees.

Throughout my career I have always worked in education, firstly in preschools whilst my children were small, this then led to working in the Valence School in Westerham where I was encouraged to further my career and so as a mature student I set off to train at Greenwich University obtaining a BA in Primary teaching. Finally after many years in Education I left and trained as a Dispenser but missed the children, which led me back to Knockholt.

I now manage Junior Junction in the village centre, which is a before and after school club, also a full day holiday club.

Recently I was co-opted onto the Parish Council as part of the Publicity & Media Committee, but as part of the council I hope that I can offer ideas and make a contribution to our village.
